MAPLE GROVE RESORT

Maple Grove Resort, where mountains and water combine

Mountains, valleys, lakes and rivers—if you like any of these, then you're going to love staying at Maple Grove Resort in Randle, Washington. Three of the most beautiful mountains in the nation form a triangle around the resort: Mount Rainier, Mount St. Helens, and Mount Adams. The nearby mountains provide opportunities to participate in all high-terrain sports, particularly snow skiing, cross-country skiing, and snowshoeing. There are many hiking, ATVising, horseback riding, and biking trails, too.

The resort is located on 1,400 feet of the Cowlitz River where you can fish, tube, kayak, swim, or go whitewater rafting. The Cowlitz is the number one steelhead producer in the state of Washington for winter and summer run steelhead. The river starts at Mount Rainier and runs through the Cascade Range ultimately dumping into the Columbia River, which empties into the Pacific Ocean. The area has an abundance of wildlife including deer, bald eagles, osprey, and blue heron. In addition, there are more than 60 lakes within 40 miles of the resort.

Amenities at Maple Grove Resort include an indoor pool and hot tub, basketball, volleyball, golfing on a 9-hole course, horseshoes, and a playground. A clubhouse adds to your visit. Take advantage of the 50-amp electrical and Wi-Fi at your site.

The rural area surrounding Randle, Washington, is known locally as the “Big Bottom Valley,” which is reflective of the fact that the valley floor in which the Cowlitz River winds is a big fertile land that is, at places, more than three miles wide.

“When water and mountains combine, you've got a fabulous vacation destination,” says Manager Scott Abercrombie.
